OTABOY RAKHMONOV

I am a Credit Risk Specialist and Loan Department Manager with proven expertise in evaluating clients' financial stability and creditworthiness. My core responsibilities include assessing loan applications against strict criteria, approving credit for financially sound clients, and rejecting high-risk proposals to minimize financial loss. I have strong analytical abilities, deep knowledge of credit risk assessment, and extensive experience in client profiling and loan portfolio management.

Alongside my finance background, I am also a software engineer specializing in web and frontend development. With 1+ years of experience, I have been working with JavaScript and its ecosystem—React.js, Redux Toolkit, Next.js, and TypeScript. I also have a solid grasp of algorithms and data structures. I'm a curious, fast learner and an open-minded developer with a passion for contributing to challenging and meaningful projects within a collaborative team environment.
